Fitz-Gibbon Residential is a highly successful residential lettings and property management agency, with offices in Richmond, Chiswick and Twickenham. The business not only requires annual accounts, but also a detailed specialist audit under the Association of Residential Letting Agents (ARLA) rules.

"Fitz-Gibbon Residential was founded twenty one years ago and we have been using Alan James and Co for the last three years.

We moved to Alan James from a large accountancy firm, which was not a move that we made lightly as our industry can be complex. However, we need not have been concerned, indeed it was the best move we ever made. The service they offer is exceptional, they really care for their clients and ensure that you consider all areas around your business. Thanks to Alan James & Co we have developed the way our business has grown and considered options that we might otherwise have missed.

Nothing is too much trouble and everything is explained, indeed Alan James has recently introduced seminars around accountancy and this has proved informative. If there were any areas that were unclear he has ensured clarity. Alan James & Co are a breath of fresh air when it comes to accountants and give life and energy to the industry."
